

NORTONVILLE RESIDENT IS SHOT TO DEATH

ATTACKED BY TWO MEN WHEN CLOSING STORE FOR NIGHT

William Steele, Storekeeper in Nortonville, Shot and Robbed Thursday Night—Death Resulting Fifteen Minutes Later—Only Meager Description of Assailants Given.

William Steele, storekeeper at Nortonville, was shot and killed about 9:30 o'clock last night by two men, who took his money and escaped. Mr. Steele was closing his store for the night, and had locked the door when they opened fire immediately, snatched the money which the merchant was carrying, and disappeared. Mr. Steele died in about fifteen minutes after the assault.

Word of the murder was received in this city about 9:30 o'clock, and county authorities were notified. Sheriff T. O. Wright and Coroner Sam Young went at once to Nortonville.

Citizens could give only a meager description of the two men, as only a few saw them run after the shooting. It is believed that they had a car hidden at no great distance from the store, and that in this way they made their escape.

As far as is known, there was no one in the store with Mr. Steele at closing time. There were no witnesses to the shooting.

Members of the family at the home a block from the store heard a shot, followed by the screams of the merchant. His daughter rushed from the house and found her father staggering toward his home. He told her he had been shot in the back. He reached the house, but died in a few minutes.

Dr. C. E. Waters of Murrayville was called and examined the body. He found four or five cuts on the head, apparently made by a blunt instrument, and one cut made by a sharper instrument. However, the physician stated the cuts would not have caused death. It is believed Mr. Steele was beaten over the head with a club by his assailants.

The bullet which caused death entered the body thru the left kidney, coursed upward thru the lungs and came out thru the right breast. Witnesses said that shortly after the murder, two men were seen running west from Nortonville, and that another man was observed earlier sitting in a car which was parked on the road west of town.

One of the men seen running was about five and a half feet tall and wore a mask. The other was much shorter and "poorly dressed." When the witness passed the man in the car, the latter bent over, seeming to work on his machine, but it is thought with the intention of concealing his face.

Several posses of men are searching the Nortonville community tonight. The feeling is quiet, there is a determination to do justice to the murderers if possible. The amount of money obtained by the robbers is not definitely known, the men who knew something of Mr. Steele's affairs said it was between $300 and $500. It was generally known that he was accustomed to carry considerable money on his person. It had been predicted by members of his family that he might be robbed at any time. He replied that if he was robbed, he would defend himself. However, he had no gun in the store. His statements that he would defend himself, which was commonly known, is believed to have been the cause of the fierceness of the attack upon him, and of the severe beating he received.

Coroner G. S. Young impounded a jury and held an inquest in Mr. Steele's store late last night. From all evidence presented before the coroner's jury Mr. Steele was undoubtedly shot near his store and beaten over the head with a gun in the hands of one of his assailants. He had almost reached his home when his daughter, Mrs. Leta Herford, who with her husband resides with Mr. Steele heard his cries and moans. The daughter rushed out and inquired of her father what was the matter and his reply was: "I have been shot in the back."

His daughter asked him "did they get the money?" He replied, "Yes."

His daughter then asked him if he had any other money because if they were to take him to the hospital they would need some cash. He made an attempt to reach his hip pocket but was unable to complete the movement and died a few minutes afterwards.

Don V. Butler, a resident of Nortonville, testified that between eight and nine o'clock in the evening, probably nearer nine o'clock, he saw the two men.

Naval officials were shocked over the Shenandoah disaster, which was also a blow to their hopes for development of such craft.

MAN WHO LAST SAW ERICKSON PARTY IS MET

Account of Meeting is Received From MacMillan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—Further indication that the Lief Erickson expedition of 1924 had "sailed from its last port" was contained in a radio message from Donald B. MacMillan received today by the National Geographic Society.

The party was headed by William Nutting, who sailed from Norway in the spring of last year with three companions in the 40-foot boat Lief Erikson to follow the Viking Trail to the Arctic States by the way of Iceland and Greenland. They reached Iceland safely and sailed in August 1924, for Greenland and Labrador. No further word was heard from them and it was feared they were lost in a storm.

The message received today said Commander MacMillan had discovered upon the landing of the Bowdoin at Holstenborg, Greenland, Tuesday, the man who entertained Nutting during the Erickson party's stay at Julianahab. He was O. C. Rasmussen, former deputy governor of that place, and the retiring governor of Holstenborg.

When Last Seen After discussing their plans and hopes with Governor Rasmussen, the Erickson party left for Battle Harbor, Labrador, the message said, after three days sailing a strange tale set in.

The party never again was heard from. The Arctic explorer's message added that the Peary had rejoined the Bowdoin at Holstenborg. The latter was scheduled to leave at daybreak today for Sukkopp, 100 miles to the south, just below the Arctic Circle, a new part of call for all the members of the expedition.

The Peary he said, would leave tomorrow to join the Bowdoin and the two will then proceed to Godthaab together.

"While deeply regretting the loss of life, the wreck of the big ship was inevitable sooner or later. In my opinion, these very large lighter-than-air craft have no military value sufficient to warrant the expenditure of millions in their construction and they cannot stand the strain of great storms."

"For several years I have carried a provision in the army appropriations bill which absolutely prohibits construction out of the army air funds of large lighter-than-air ships of this type."

SEARCH GOES ON FOR PLANE LOST TUESDAY

All Available Craft Being Used Searching Wide Area

HONOLULU, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—Perfect weather today gave every aid to the searchers for the missing navy seaplane PN-9, No. 1, but Commander John Rodgers and his four co-pilots remained lost.

The seaplane was forced down thru a shortage of gasoline during a storm Tuesday afternoon while enroute from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor, Oahu, on an attempted non-stop flight. Lieutenant Commander Milington B. McComb of the Pearl Harbor air station reiterated today that the searchers had by no means given up hope of finding the five fliers and their plane, which if it survived the shock of alighting is believed still aloft.

Large sections of the Pacific Ocean on which the plane may be hidden still are to be explored, navy men declared.

Another Possible Flight San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3. (AP)—All the guard ships which had remained at their stations in expectation of the attempt of the PB-1 to make a non-stop Hawaiian flight were ordered late today to proceed to the searching area and join in the hunt of the missing plane and its crew.

Secretary Wilbur's Opinion Washington, Sept. 3. (AP)—The proposed flight of the navy plane PB-1 from San Francisco to Hawaii will be called off entirely, Secretary Wilbur announced late today unless some very definite reasons in the future show that it is desirable. The secretary's statement followed announcement that the flight had been indefinitely postponed. The practical abandonment of the flight was attributed to belief on the part of the secretaries and many ranking naval officers that nothing of real value was to be gained from it and that the navy had enough trouble for a while.

Wants Another Trial San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3. (AP)—Navy aviators believe the seaplane PB-1 should be given a non-stop flight from here to Honolulu at the first opportunity weather conditions permit. Rear Admiral William A. Moffett declared here today. "Of course I regret these two disasters," said Admiral Moffett referring to the wreckage of the dirigible Shenandoah and the loss of the seaplane PN-9, No. 1, "but we believe that now is the time for the PB-1 to make this flight, while weather conditions are propitious and the ships guarding the course to Hawaii are in position."

COMMISSION NAMED DISCUSS WAR DEBT

PARIS, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—Eight members of parliament and two bankers were named today by the cabinet to accompany M. Caillaux, the finance minister to Washington to seek a settlement of France's war debt to the United States. The party will sail on the steamer Paris, September 16.

The preponderance of politics over finance in the mission is understood to be due to the desire of the government so as to associate representative groups with the settlement as to facilitate ratification.

The mission is composed of Senators Berenger, Chapuis, Buisson and Dupuy, Deputies Auriant, Lamoureux, Bokanowski and Marquis Pierre de Chambrun, Maurice Simon, controller of the French treasury and Andre Moreau-Neret, expert of the finance ministry.

ANTHRACITE MINERS CHILDREN TAKE JOBS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—When public schools reopen next week hundreds of anthracite miners' children will be absent. Since the suspension of mining by 158,000 men went into effect, youngsters are reported to be taking jobs to help support their families during the idleness of older breadwinners.

A marked slump in school enrollments was a certainty, according to a school survey made in Wilkes Barre, which was believed to reflect conditions thruout the coal fields.

Working certificates for youngsters had been issued by school superintendents by the score, it was said.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE PRIDE OF NAVY IS WRECKED THURSDAY

Shenandoah on Western Cruise Encounters Terrific Storm—Broke in Pieces, is Dashed to Earth—Fourteen of Gallant Crew are Killed, Others Injured—Story of Disaster.

CALDWELL, Ohio, Sept. 3. (Associated Press)—Fourteen of the crew of the Shenandoah, giant dirigible, are dead and two others were seriously injured early today when the pride of the United States navy cracked during a severe storm on its western cruise from its Lakehurst, N. J., air port.

Among the dead is Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, captain of the ship.

After battling the elements for several hours the huge air craft suddenly shot upward to an altitude of approximately 7,500 feet from a 3,000 foot level where the dirigible buckled amidship. The pressure and twisting was so great that it broke the ship in three sections.

The control cabin swung between the fore section of the ship proper, broke away and crashed to the ground while at an altitude of several thousand feet. It carried most of the crew who were killed.

Release of the control cabin the fore section measuring about 150 feet and leaving seven survivors, free ballooned for more than an hour and finally was landed near Sharon, twelve miles from where the control cabin crashed, near Ava.

Survivors Landed The main section, carrying 24 survivors, landed with a crash which caused several of the crew diving thru the outer covering to the ground. A middle section of some 15 or 20 feet settled down in pieces over the countryside.

Those aboard the nose section had a wild and thrilling ride and landed with a crash from the place where the cabin compartment crashed. Several of the officers had just left the control cabin and were climbing up the ladder into the cat walk of the ship proper when the cabin broke loose. Suspended in mid-air and hanging to a girder they crawled or were pulled to places of comparative safety.

One, not so fortunate, E. J. McCarthy, chief rigger, was swept from his perilous perch in the forward end of the nose to the ground when the motorless craft struck a tree. He is in a Marietta hospital in a serious condition. With three men forward and three aft in the nose of the craft it was maneuvered to a safe altitude after rushing toward and at least one farm house. Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl and Lieutenant J. B. Anderson directed the release of the helium gas and gasoline in such a way that the nose landed without seriously injuring any aboard. The dead were then taken to Belle Valley, a nearby village, where they were placed in an improvised morgue. An American Legion guard of honor is on watch there tonight.

Meet Instant Death

The men if appeared were instantly killed. At least one man was torn in two. Others had broken bones and skulls and were otherwise badly mutilated. The bodies will be kept at Belle Valley until tomorrow when a board of inquiry will officially establish the cause of death.

This board will be headed by Commander J. H. Klein, executive officer of the Lakehurst Station who is enroute from the eastern city tonight. Another board is expected to investigate the cause of the accident and to determine what disposition, if any, will be made of the wrecked airship.

The Shenandoah started from Lakehurst, N. J., late yesterday afternoon and had an uneventful trip until it crossed the Ohio river into Ohio. While on a line between Cambridge and Byesville, heading westward the ship encountered a severe electrical storm. It was unable to make any speed. After some maneuvering officers managed to head the ship southward, seeking to clear the storm area. Near Ava, eight miles north of here the ship encountered the line squall, the variety of storm most feared by aviators and was carried from a 3,000 foot level to 4,500 feet, where it remained stationary for a few minutes. Then, with the ship's nose headed southward and four of the five engines going full speed, the pressure again hoisted the ship to a still higher level, about 6,500 feet. Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne, survivors say, ordered all motors stopped when the ship reached an altitude of about 6,500 feet.

Ship Begins Breaking At this point the ship began to break apart. The nose section continued its ascent to about 7,500 feet and then started down.

COMMANDER OF DIRIGIBLE MAKES REPORT

Describes Action Of Ship in Storm And Results

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—A telegraphic report on the Shenandoah disaster was received by the navy department tonight from Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, as the senior surviving officer.

The message said: "Mid storm suddenly followed by violent line squall subjected ship to enormous uncontrollable shock strains and rapid vertical ascent resulting in ship's structure breaking in two at about 7,500 feet at vicinity of frames 120 and 90. Control car very quickly wrenched free in air, undoubtedly precipitating occupants. Forward wing cars wrenched from ship's structure in air. Forward section ship free ballooned up approximately one hour with seven occupants. McCarthy being knocked out of ship by tree in landing. Midship section crashed with three occupants. Only Gunner being injured in landing. Injuries not serious. After section crashed but landed 17 occupants safely."

Forward Section Falls

"Forward section of ship landed at Sharon about 12 miles east of Lakehurst, which landed at Ava. Probably eight casualties from radio and control car. Probably three casualties from keel and three from forward wing cars."

"Sections of ship were deflated by hand completely and removed as soon as possible. Deputy sheriffs and American Legion guarding property until arrival of troops from Columbus. Accurate identification of dead completed. Lieutenant Hendley, with survivors left this afternoon and should arrive Lakehurst Friday morning."

"Bauch Mayor, two petty officers and myself remaining here as long as necessary. Lieutenant Wylie arrived this afternoon from Detroit and will remain while needed."

"Personal effects all hands salvaged from ship. No fires during or after disaster. In my opinion value of salvageable material is almost negligible."

"Lieut. Commander Rosendahl, Senior Surviving Officer."

LEW SHANK, MAYOR OF INDIANAPOLIS WILL LEAVE OFFICE SOON

First Decided Over Card Table In Saloon To Run For Mayor

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Lew Shank, who has combined an intermittent career of public service with auctioneering, horse racing, acting and operation of a storage plant, will retire again to private life at the end of this year, when his second term as mayor of Indianapolis expires.

Shank has not decided whether he will climb back onto the auction block or resume management of his storage plant. His friends say he no longer has any inclination for the race track, and he has said he will not be lured back to the stage, where, as a professional humorist, he attracted attention throughout the country some years ago.

His present objective is to cap his career as mayor with the purchase of the 650-acre Laurel Hill estate and mansion near the city for a municipal park and country club. The property, valued at more than $1,000,000, belonged to Stoughton Fletcher, Indianapolis capitalist, and is now in the hands of trustees. Shank, conceiving the idea of acquiring it for a city playground, recently inserted page advertisements in Indianapolis newspapers urging citizens to visit. Thousands of residents inspected the estate on the day set, but much opposition has arisen to purchase or lease of the estate by the city.

Since the day Shank decided suddenly, over a card table in the back room of a saloon, to run for the mayoralty of Indianapolis, he has kept his city and state in the limelight and he has become a notable character. He has been unusually well informed on all branches of city government, he has shown aptitude for business administration, and he has been indomitably persistent in attainment of his municipal objectives.

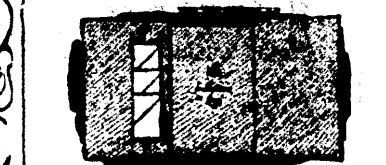

Shank aspired last year to the republican gubernatorial nomination but was beaten. He met in direct defeat again in the city primaries last May when Ralph Lemcke, who had Shank's support for the mayoralty, lost the republican nomination to John L. Duval, present county treasurer, leaving a breach in republican ranks which has not yet healed completely.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothing To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

Fashion Turns Turtle You remember—or say you do, anyway—the Song of Solomon in the Old Testament, "The time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land." Fashion, as foreshadowed here long ago, speaks with the voice of the turtle through the turtle-neck sweater, so-called, because of its rolled, right-and-tight effect. Contrary to common belief, this style is in no wise new, but simply a revival of a model which was in vogue among sportsmen, trainers and college men some twenty years or so ago. Indeed, it is one of the original effects, dating back to the days when the sweater was a real protection against wind and cold, instead of being, like lovely woman's summer furs, a mere decoration. The turtle-neck sweater is supposed to lend no end of an "athletic" look to one's appearance; to hint of brawn-and-biceps and all that sort of cave-mannish stuff.

The turtle-neck, sketched here, comes in brightly contrasting colors. The ground is white, whilst the neck, cuffs and waistband are in bold blue, green or scarlet. Such an effect is not as startling as it sounds. Upon a youngster this style looks very well. It should be avoided by older men who cannot carry off such an audacious fashion with the need of a dash and "careful carelessness."

Care of one's sweater is important to prolong its life and preserve its looks. A sweater should never, never, be hung upon a hook, nor even draped upon a hanger. Being knitted and elastic, the weight of the garment pulls it out of shape. Fold your sweater and lay it flat in a drawer. Youthful university men have a habit of rolling up the bottoms of their sweaters, very much as trousers are turned up, to give a smartly negligee look to the garment. For those who like that sort of thing, it is just the sort of thing they like.

It is the practice of well-dressed men to own several sweaters which they wear in rotation—the V-neck, the cardigan effect (buttons down the front) and the turtle-neck. These are chosen in different colors to accompany different suits. Thus, one obtains that agreeable variety of effect which is especially desirable in sporting clothes of which one tires more quickly than of any other mode of dress.

POORLY DRAWN LEASES MENACE TO THE PUBLIC

URBANA, Ill. (By Associated Press)—Short-sighted, poorly drawn leases are a public menace, in the opinion of Robert R. Hudson, extension specialist in farm organization and management at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. He declared that the lease contract which does not protect the farm property and the future farm income from gradual disintegration may remove a productive farm from profitable use and thereby cause the tenant, land owner and public to suffer a preventable disaster.

"Especially is the cash rent, 'mining' contract to be avoided in drawing up farm leases at this time of the year," he said. "A case in point is a farm of 200 acres recently visited that had been rented for cash with no restrictions for 20 years. The same tenant had been on the farm for the entire 20 years and annually had taken his $1,000 rent money to the owner. This was all that was required of him and little attention was paid to his operations until on the nineteenth year he came in to say that he couldn't pay all of it because the crops were poor and he had no surplus funds."

"Investigation showed that farm had once been a good productive one in a productive locality. The cash rent contract had done its worst, however, and the tenant gradually was retreating to the better end of the farm. The more rolling part would no longer pay expenses, to say nothing of rent money, and hence about half the farm was abandoned."

"Grain farming and removal of all crops had been the means and perhaps the tenant had been to blame. His immediate interests had always been to get the cash rent and make the best living possible for his family. He was too busy looking after these interests to see ahead."

"No soil is so good that it can stand short sighted farming indefinitely and consequently no lease should be drawn up without some agreement on a proper cropping system and some provision for soil maintenance."

CIVIL WAR VETERANS ARE DWINDLING FAST Springfield, (AP)—A handful of veterans, 4,374 in number, members of an Illinois army once 266,000 strong that defied Confederate bullets in the Civil War, is making a valiant but losing fight against "three score and ten" years allotted to the natural life of man.

Death of old age has been taking members of the Illinois department of the G. A. R. at the rate of 1,000 a year, officials of the organization say. Fewer than in any previous year will be able to make camp at Grand Rapids, Mich., at the 69th National Encampment August 30 to September 6.

The average age of members of the organization ranges between 82 and 83 years. There are 65,382 veterans of the Civil War still living in the United States. The government is paying pension to 126,606 veterans and their widows and dependents. Illinois still has 277 posts, several of them having only one man remaining to hold the post and carry the standard. The state will send 23 official delegates to the National Encampment.

Belle Valley a little village nestled in the foothills of the Alleghenies tonight cared for the Shenandoah dead.

In an improvised morgue, a ramshackle, unpainted building, which serves as a storage place for automobiles and other things, lay the bodies of the 14 victims. Some of the broken windows are boarded up, others are covered with cardboard. It was the best the village could provide in the emergency.

Rank in death is unknown. The body of a goby lay next to that of a lieutenant commander.

American Legion guard of honor stands at attention outside. Hundreds of sightseers many from miles away thronged about the building today and tonight. The more inquisitive are ordered away.

Flags are at half mast and an air of reverence has come over the villagers.

Tomorrow caskets will come and it is regarded as certain that the bodies will be shipped to their respective homes. Hundreds of thousands of mid-west citizens looked forward to the visit of the Shenandoah on its trip thru Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio and the twin cities, the turning point in the circuit had planned an elaborate welcome for the giant craft and her crew. The published itinerary of the dirigible called for a refueling stop at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., some time tomorrow. Thence she was to circle over St. Louis, nose westward to Kansas City, and then swing northward over St. Joseph, Mo., Des Moines, Iowa, to Minneapolis and St. Paul.

On the homeward journey, the ship was to sail over Milwaukee, and Racine, Wis., around the south end of Lake Michigan, over Chicago to Detroit and thence to Toledo to pick up the original trail, on which today's disaster occurred.

"I will never be able to get over the fact that the department ordered the flight to be made at this season of the year. It is almost impossible to cross the Ohio Valley without encountering severe storms and Commander Lansdowne felt that the bureau's order to make the flight was a little bit too severe at this time," declared Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the commanding officer of the wrecked Shenandoah.

She accepted the shock stoically, however, with the comment that "when a girl marries an aviator she is making a gamble. I've gambled and I've lost."

Aviation experts and meteorologists at Chicago agreed tonight on the basis of newspaper accounts that the Shenandoah was torn to pieces by upper air whirlwinds of unusual intensity.

A study of weather maps for the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions during the past two days revealed that the wrecking storm was of the tornado type known as "the frying pan low" because of its prevalence over low pressure area surrounded by high pressure conditions.

James M. Collier, aviation chief rigger on the ill-fated Shenandoah has evaded death twice in dirigible accidents. He escaped with his life today when the Shenandoah was destroyed near Caldwell.

Collier was with the United States navy crew that went to England after the ZR-2, which fell into the Humber River August 24, 1921, with a loss of more than 40 lives. There he gave his place on the ZR-2 that day to another man. His substitute's body never was found.

Survivors of the ill-fated Shenandoah tonight were unanimous in the declaration that helium gas with which the twenty cells of the big airship were filled unquestionably prevented the loss of the entire personnel aboard the ship.

Had the cells been filled with hydrogen gas officers declared, an explosion undoubtedly would have accompanied the buckling resulting in the entire craft falling in flames.

As it was there was no fire or explosion.

Experts of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company Akron who have been working on dirigible research since the concern bought the German Zeppelin patents are not discouraged because of the collapse of the Shenandoah.

HAVE EXTRADITION PAPERS FOR ILL. WOMAN

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 3. (AP)—Sheriff Daggett of Madison, Wis., arrived here today with extradition papers from Governor Christenson for Gertrude Showers, an alleged fugitive from justice. The papers were served on Sheriff Nelson here this morning.

Miss Showers was arrested here last week together with Ralph Fritz of Elgin, Ill., who is wanted on charge of wife desertion, according to authorities of that city.

A sheriff is also expected for Fritz either Friday or Saturday. W. P. Murray, lawyer for Miss Showers has started habeas corpus proceedings. Pending action, Sheriff Daggett will remain here until proceedings have been cleared up.

Miss Showers is alleged to have broken out of the Madison jail where she had been held on complaint by Fritz's wife.

TWO THOUSAND GROTTO MEMBERS GATHER

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 3. (AP)—Two thousand members of the grotto, Masonic fun fraternity, are here today for the opening festivities of the two day annual celebration of the Mississippi valley grotto ceremonial conference. Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri are represented in the association. A huge ceremonial at which candidates from 15 cities in the three states will be initiated, will be a feature of the convention.

ward on its cross-country flight. The control cabin was twisted off and dropped to the ground when more than 5,000 feet in the air. The seven men aboard this section were instantly killed.

The big section, carrying 26 officers and men, tossed about in the air for a short time while the crew fought heroically to bring it under control. This section was so unevenly balanced that it settled to the ground where it was further cracked.

The bulk of the mid-section fell into a small grove and three survivors spinned their way down to the ground. Radio Gunner Raymond Cole, who was making his first flight aboard the Shenandoah, was badly injured, when the mid-section fell. He may recover.

Officers and men went about their work with coolness, doing their best to right the ship to a level keel during the storm and after the break-up. Survivors are loud in their praise for the manner in which the crew conducted itself. There was no disorder. The men sought to release helium as directed and when they crashed to earth they were thrown thru the outer covering or scrambling to the ground of their own accord.

Li. Com. Comments
Caldwell, O., Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—Human hands could not have designed a craft to weather the storm the Shenandoah encountered last night before its fall. Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosenthal said tonight.

He also declared that he believed human hands could not have guided it to safety. Daylight would have made no difference, he said.

"And don't think the days of the airship are numbered," he said.

Lieutenant Commander Rosenthal characterized as false news stories sent out by a press association, other than the Associated Press, which accredited to him a statement that the disaster to the Shenandoah was caused by its coming too near the ground, causing her gondolas to strike the tree tops.

Prevention Discussed
Colonel G. Hall, U. S. Army observer, aboard the ship shortly before his departure for the east, told The Associated Press that meteorologists' reports undoubtedly would have prevented the Shenandoah's encounter this morning with the line squall.

"Had we had wireless communication from Cambridge, we undoubtedly would have been able to head away from the storm entirely," he said. "As it was the commander was obliged to steer away from the approaching clouds without assistance from weather bureau authorities in nearby towns."

To Inspect Wreckage
Philadelphia, Sept. 3. (By Associated Press)—Commander J. H. Klein, Jr., in command of the Lakehurst naval air station and two aides, left here on a Pennsylvania railroad train at 3:11 o'clock this afternoon for the scene of the disaster to the Shenandoah.

They planned to proceed by automobile from Pittsburgh.

Dr. A. E. Prince of Springfield, Illinois, will see his eye, ear, nose and throat patients in Jacksonville the 1st Thursday of each month at the Dunlap Hotel.

VIRGINIA FARMER INJURED NEAR HERE

Glenn Riley, well known farmer of the Virginia community, was seriously injured yesterday morning about 10 o'clock near the Italy York farm, six miles northwest of the city, when he was hit by a car and to have been driven by M. R. Anderson of Concord. He was brought to Jacksonville and taken to Passavant hospital, where he is said to be improving.

The accident occurred after a car driven by Mr. Riley collided with another on a bridge near the York home, and being unable to proceed further called a local garage for assistance. It was after the local garagemen had arrived on the scene of trouble that Mr. Riley started to walk across the road and was hit by the Concord car. He was thrown clear of the machine and at first it was thought his injuries might prove fatal. However, examination revealed a cut over the eye and other bruises.

The hospital reported last night that if he shows continued improvement he may be taken to his home today. Reports were current about the city during the afternoon that Mr. Riley had been killed.

LONG STANDING DEBT TO CITY SETTLED

The city council met in special session last night, and also transacted the regular monthly business. The special business was the adoption of a resolution authorizing the settlement of a paving assessment against the property of William Sebastian on West Lafayette avenue. The original assessment was $27.50 and since it was levied ten years ago, accumulated interest has about doubled the city's claim. The resolution authorized settlement of the claim for $400.

An extraordinary monthly report was submitted by Chief of Police Kiloran. Sixty arrests were made during August, 11 of which were state cases and 49 city cases. Fines amounting to $449.49 were turned into the city treasurer, and court costs for the month amounted to $138.

Total collections in the water department amounted to $5,880.45, of which $6,630.10 was collected for the sale of water. The health department reported 20 cases of communicable diseases in the city and 11 in the county, making a total of 31. In the registration district 33 deaths and 31 births were reported.

Mayor Crabtree was in the chair, and all members of the council except Aldermen Fairbank and Howe were in attendance.

SCORES OF TRAFFIC VIOLATORS ARRESTED

State Officers and Local Police Picked in Nearly 70 Persons Who Violated Traffic Laws—Two Arrested in Hold Night Court and Assess Fines.

Up to 11 o'clock last night local police headquarters presented a scene of great activity. Two officers of the police, A. B. Opperman and C. O. Bayle, held night court in the chief's office and received a constant stream of citizens who had been put under arrest by state inspectors and local police, working to enforce the state traffic laws.

Absence of tail lights was the chief offense, with lack of both front lights and failure to use dimmers as attendant charges. More than 65 persons were brought before the court and were each assessed a fine of $1 and costs, or a total of $3. The minimum fine was used in all cases, the state law provides for a maximum of $25.

As a rule, the victims took their arrests cheerfully, but some complained and were inclined to offer excuses. One man said he was on his way to a garage to secure a new bulb for his light, as one had burned out, when he was arrested. Most of those arrested said they did not know the tail lights on their cars were not burning, or that the lights were all right when they left home. However, the court was firm and decided that ignorance of either condition of lights or the provisions of the statute excused no one.

The victims included residents of many surrounding communities who had come here to attend the fair. Among those arrested and fined were:

Roma Cole, Adolph Kachert, George Stice, O. F. Leutkehaus, Miss Nora Baird, Andrew Schulds, James Lewis, A. R. Harper, E. L. Hill Jr., Fred Westemeyer, Clarence E. Smith, Clyde Oxtley, E. J. Muntman, W. E. Hart, William Flynn, Clark Stevenson, J. E. Barker, Morris Thompson, Mrs. Irene Perlatto, R. F. Reynolds, Dr. H. C. Woltman, Mrs. Mabel Vanmer, Owen Butler, Miss Eda Eckhoff, J. J. Potts, Robert T. Lee, Ed Stromatt, J. H. Franklin and Wilfred Talston.

J. C. Kennedy was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding. Other traffic violators will be arraigned today, but the bulk of the offenders have been dealt with. The court warned the victims last night that future offenses would bring down an even heavier fine.

FARMERS ARE GUESTS AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

Mutual Understanding Urged Between Farmers and Business Men—Forty are Guests.

Forty farmers of this community were special guests of the local Kiwanis club at its luncheon yesterday noon. The Kiwanians invited the farmers to promote a better understanding of their respective problems. It is hoped to make the event an annual affair. Dr. A. B. Applebee, who has been active in promoting the club, had charge of the program. He presented the business men's desire to establish closer relations with the farmers and then called upon some of the guests to tell them how they could do more to bring this about. In responding they stated that Jacksonville business men have already been doing all possible toward this end.

F. A. Fisher, new Morgan farm adviser, spoke briefly before the regular program got under way. He voiced the need for close co-operation, stating that in order to obtain true prosperity all should prosper.

C. C. Davis, president of the Morgan county fair association expressed his appreciation for all that business men have done in making the present fair a success. "There is nothing new for you to do in boosting the fair—just keep doing what you have been doing," he said.

C. S. Black, of the board of directors of the farm bureau, affirmed the co-operation which men of Jacksonville have been showing in his department, saying that they have at all times been loyal to the bureau. He commended highly the work of G. B. Kendall, retiring advisor, and his successor F. A. Fisher, saying that there are none of higher ability in the state than these two men.

Howard Loomis, agricultural instructor in the high school faculty, prophesied even greater achievements of the calf club for next year than has already been accomplished.

Prof. Henry T. Rusk, head of the department of animal husbandry at the University of Illinois, gave the address of the day. He stated that the correct way to secure mutual co-operation is for each to reveal his problems to the other, instead of each to try to tell the other the solution to his problems.

Miss Marian Cain, who has a leading part with the Roy Mack musical revue playing at the fair grounds, entertained the Kiwanians with two vocal solos. Willard Wesner accompanied her on the piano.

The farmers present at the luncheon included E. E. Hart, Joe Wilson, John Erickson, Frank Crowley, L. A. Reed, Albert Crum, George Luker, Robert Allen, Jacob Strawn, John Cain, Charles Gibson, Scott Holmes, John Lazenby, Andrew Harris, Leonard Woods, Wallace Hembrough, Douglas Hunt, Leon Stewart, John Stewart, Thomas J. Cain, Howard Stevenson, Charles Greenleaf, Robert Hopper, R. J. Wolf, W. Parlier, Howard Haynes, W. G. Hadden, J. W. Arnold, John R. Allen, C. E. Cox, Amos McCurley, Frank W. Ranson, A. A. Curry, William McNamara and James Lonerran. Other guests were Raymond Lundstrom, Chicago, and C. H. Grundy Camp Point.

He left Nortonville for his home going west. A short distance west of Nortonville at a corner he saw a Ford touring car standing still with the engine silent and with unlit lights. The car had one occupant, who when Mr. Butler approached bent over as though he was examining some part of his car.

Leslie Waters of Nortonville, who lives less than one eighth of a mile from the store was sitting on his porch shortly before nine o'clock when he heard what he thought was the front door of the store slam, and then he heard someone running and a moment later heard the moans and screams of someone on the main street of town. He with another neighbor and with went toward the store and as they were going up the street they met two men. One very short apparently only about five feet in height, shabbily dressed and wearing a hat. The other man was approximately five and one half feet tall and over his face he wore a white mask, which had the appearance of being a towel. One of the two men was heard to remark:

"Well have to hurry."

The witness stated that shortly after that he came upon Mr. Steele in a bad condition near his home. Mr. Steele died a short time after the witness reached him.

Mr. Waters further stated that both of the men he saw running away were on the main street.

Dr. Waters Testifies
Dr. C. E. Waters testified that he was called and on examination of the body found that there were four or five bad cuts on the head apparently made with a blunt instrument and one deeper cut which was undoubtedly made by some sharp instrument. He stated that none of the wounds on the head would have caused death. He found one bullet hole thru the body. The bullet had entered thru the left kidney, passing up thru the lungs and coming out at the right breast indicating that the deceased was probably traveling away from his assailants at the time he was shot.

Moore Herford, a son-in-law of Mr. Steele testified that he works in the store and that he and his wife lived with Mr. Steele. Mr. and Mrs. Herford returned from a trip to Scottsville about 8:15 o'clock and went immediately home. They had been there but a very few minutes when they heard a shot. Mr. Herford grabbed two pistols and started out of the house in the direction of the store but met Mr. Steele in the street near his home. His only remark to his son-in-law was: "I'm shot, send for a doctor quick." He was able to carry on no further conversation with Mr. Herford.

It was his impression that the sound of the shot would indicate that the attack took place in the close vicinity of the store. He said that the deceased very often kept considerable money about the store or on his person being very open with the fact that he carried sometimes a good amount of money in a bill fold of four compartments in which he carried both checks and currency. It is known that he had at the time of his death two checks, one of which was drawn on the Murrayville bank and he also was carrying one school order. Mr. Herford estimated the amount that Mr. Steele had on his person at the time he was murdered at from $300 to $500 and further stated that the purse in which he had always carried his money was missing when they reached him.

Mrs. Leta Herford, daughter of the deceased, testified along practically the same lines as her husband, but stated that when she first heard the shot she immediately had a premonition that her father had been shot, because, she stated, her father had been very bold about carrying large amounts of money and she had warned him numerous times concerning this fact. His reply had always been that in case he was ever held up he would put up a fight and his daughter had always cautioned against this idea.

She stated that at about the time she reached her stricken father she heard someone running, but did not see anyone.

Saw No Strange Men
None of the witnesses nor any of the residents of the village who were interviewed had seen any strange men around Nortonville yesterday answering the descriptions furnished by Leslie Waters.

The coroner's jury will not render a verdict at present but will wait the case open for a short time for any possible developments.

Immediately after the tragedy Sheriff Wright and his deputies left for the scene of the murder and posses were formed to scour the surrounding country and to keep a lookout on the various roads.

Robert William Steele was born April 21, 1875, east of Murrayville and has resided in the southern part of the county all of his life with the exception of a year or so spent in Beardstown. He was the son of John and Emma Steele.

On October 20, 1897 he was united in marriage to Miss Dolly Bull of Nortonville. Mrs. Steele passing away in 1905. Two daughters, survive. Mrs. Veda Shelton of Jacksonville and Mrs. Leta Herford at home in Nortonville. He is also survived by one brother, Oliver P. Steele of Jacksonville and one sister, Mrs. Luella Nason who resides near Nortonville. Six grandchildren also survive him.

The deceased was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and had followed farming as an occupation for the greater part of his life but for the past few years he has been the proprietor of a general store in Nortonville where the tragedy occurred.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

WHY DO HOSPITALS USE WHITE BREAD?

White bread is more nourishing and more easily digested than any other bread. It turned into working energy quicker, and builds both muscle and strength. The Leading Dietitians, and other authorities, have proved by countless tests that no bread is the equal of good white bread.

LUCKY BOY white bread

the best for any person to eat.

Dr. H. E. Barnard, director of The American Institute of Baking, Chicago—one of the leading authorities on nutritive values of breads, said recently: "Bodily breakdown comes from lack of vital reserve. A well-balanced ration—in other words common-sense diet—prevents bodily breakdown and builds vital reserve. Plenty of good white bread for energy and milk for energy, minerals, vitamins and body building solids.

LUCKY BOY white bread

with milk, or Lucky Boy white bread and butter is a balanced food, an ideal meal in itself—and in hot weather particularly, is much better for any person than the average meal.

LUCKY BOY White Bread

and milk, or Lucky Boy white bread with butter—and plenty of it, are prescribed by physicians. It is a meal eaten daily by wealthy men because it helps them to keep in the best physical and mental condition.

LUCKY BOY white bread

and milk, or Lucky Boy white bread with butter is equally good for all—

WINGO'S DOUBLE IN NINTH WINS GAME

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3. (AP)—After Cleveland obtained a seven run lead, Wingo let down and was driven from the mound in the seventh Detroit winning 11 to 9 when Wingo doubled with bases filled and two men out.

Detroit, 010 002 413-17 17

NURMI NOW A KNIGHT

Helsingfors, (AP)—Paavo Nurmi, the champion distance runner, is now a Finnish knight and the possessor of the Order of the White Rose. These honors were conferred upon the athlete by President Rielander upon Nurmi's return from America and were in recognition of his advancement of Finnish interests through his athletic prowess.

TRY A JOURNAL WANT AD

THE NUT Cracker

Joe Williams in

Esikimo music was broadcast from MacMillan's flagship in the Arctic. To hardened travelers it sounded like nothing less than a gum-chewing train announcer doing his stuff.

The news dispatches reveal the Dempsey mansion is guarded by two ferocious crows. We expect to read any day now that the champion is using a power puff on his new beeper.

When the merry villagers saw Battling Siki walking down the street preceded by two hons they merely called him a nut. We don't know what they'd call a heavyweight champion who went strolling with a pair of fancy lap hounds.

So the tennis galleries have begun to boo little Helen Wills, eh? And a year ago she was the darling of sportsmen. Well, the distribution of razzerberries for Napoleon during the long walk back from Moscow was said to be quite abundant, if not entirely adequate.

It's nice to be lifted from the battle field in your honor of triumph and carried on the shoulders of the howling mob, but you can never tell just where they are going to carry you to and into what debris can they intend to toss you.

In a way it's fine to be a ham-megger all your life. You thus are saved the necessity of explaining to inquiring friends how and where your championship aspiration got its mortal wound.

Be that as it may, we note that Dr. Pipes is a practicing physician in Cleveland. And Mr. O'Goaty wonders if he isn't a throat specialist.

It's in the fall of the year that the prize potatoes start coming in. Unfortunately we have the prize tomatoes with us all the time.

Market Report

DRY WEATHER CAUSES
JUMP IN CORN PRICES

CHICAGO, Sept. 3. (AP)—Active buying of corn resulted in much higher prices for that grain today and helped to lift wheat as well.

Dry hot weather threatened further damage to the corn crop, was the incentive for the purchasing of corn. Official reports from Iowa, the banner state for corn said that about half the state it was filled many acres were poorly filled as the result of drought and that in northwest Iowa, the corn crop was now past help from rain. Corn opening prices 3 to 2 1/2 higher. December 84 1/2 to 85c, were followed by additional appraisals with September at 97c or ordinary reaching distance of $1 a bushel.

In wheat, there was aggressive buying on the part of a noted speculator. Starting at 9c decline to 8c advance, December $1.51 to $1.51 1/2 and May $1.54 1/2 to $1.55 1/2, the market scored material gains
all around.

Oats were a little firmer, sympathizing with corn and wheat.
After opening unchanged to 1c higher, December 41 1/2c oats made a slight general advance, influenced by hog values the provision market was easy.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 3. (AP)— Cash wheat today showed further strength with prices at the finish showing a gain of 2 to 3 cents.
The trading basis was 1c better for winter and spring grades. Demand was largely from millers.
Local sales were 36,000 bushels.
Deliveries were 616,000 bushels.
New York failed to report any fresh export business. Cash corn was in sharp demand, with prices 3 to 5c higher. All interests were buying. The trading basis was unchanged. No 2 yellow sold here today at $1.01 1/2, or 1 1/2 over September and 4c higher than last yesterday's best price. Local sales were 117,000 bushels. There were sales of 105,000 bushels to go to store. Deliveries were 43-000.

Cash oats met with good demand on the part of elevator houses. The market was 1 to 1 1/2c better with the trading basis unchanged to 1c easier. Local sales were 82,000 bushels. Deliveries were 917,000 bushels. Cars inspected: wheat 25; corn 135;
